

14 - 16 years

GCSE and sixth form entry

- » The GCSE years are all about choices
- » Navigating your child's options
- » Support and tutoring

Our girls have benefitted enormously; their progress has been phenomenal and their confidence has grown. I will continue to refer anyone who wants excellent tutoring.

Dr S G, London
parent of daughters age 6 and 10

Get in touch | +44 (0)20 7350 1981
simplylearningtuition.co.uk/contact-us

SIMPLY
LEARNING
TUITION

The GCSE years are all about choices

What subjects to take at GCSE and what A-levels or IB options might they lead to? How does that affect decisions about university? Should your child stay on at their existing school or move for sixth-form?

Whatever the choices in front of you, understanding the options and putting learning support in place that will help your child succeed is invaluable.

Navigating your child's options

The options can seem endless; home schooling, boarding school, day school and perhaps additional private tutoring. Then on top of that you need to consider the ethos of a school, its strengths and pastoral environment and how they might fit with your child's interests and ambitions. Our Education Consultants know the schools and the admissions tutors and work with you to identify the learning environments that best suit your child and your family.

Support and tutoring

Children can feel immense pressure around major examinations and the best way to support them is to give them the tools and knowledge they need to succeed. SLT represents tutors who are experts at just that; passionate about their subjects, they offer calm, structured assistance that allows your child to shine.

